We have been using Entelyglobal for full charge Accounting Work for the last several years. We were familiar with outsourced accounting but we were a little concerned because they were based in overseas. We ran into a few hiccups but the whole team stood by with consistency and have been able to streamline the process of outsourced accounting. To give you an example, I just came back from a 10 days vacation and accounting department ran smoothly in my absence. I would recommend their service to companies who are frustrated with managing in-house bookkeeping.
